

Cadillac presents the Best of Spring Indulgences.

Best way to satisfy a sweet tooth

Ice cream Italiano

Treat yourself to an Italian gelato. Made with only 8% milk fat, flavors are more intense than in everyday ice cream. Pick it! Check out Eccosmy.com, an online source for custom flavor blending. Choose your own base, mix-ins and toppings, give it a catchy name, and have the concoction delivered the next day. Flavors include avocado, jackfruit, green tea, honeydew and an especially refreshing cucumber-dill.

Best way to volumize hair

A top-down drive

Go ahead — let the wind whip through your tresses in a new Cadillac XLR. The convertible strikes just the right balance of sophisticated, sleek and sporty design, while offering a few stellar features such as adaptive cruise control, discrete heads-up display on the windshield, keyless ignition and voice recognition. Without question, this sweet ride will help you get to your spring fling in style.

Best shade of the season

coral

Pink may be passé, but a new hue is dominating the Spring runways. Between blacks and creams came a pop of coral. The bright shade showed up in evening dresses, a lacy Lacoste, a strapless layered Armani column, and a voluminous Gaultier gown. Pair it with icy green or tobacco brown for a daytime look, then brush on a little coral blush for San Tropez style.

Best wardrobe staple designer denim

The standard denim jacket from you-know-where is no match for the extraordinary couture creators that grace the DFFA stage. Designers transform basic blue jeans into works of art, put on a theatrical fashion show and then release the jackets to the highest bidder. The best part about these one-of-a-kind seasons? The Dallas Chapter of the Design Industries Foundation Fighting AIDS uses the proceeds to fund local education, housing and care. Visit www.dffadallas.org for more information.

Best foot forward

pedicures

It's time to kick off your heels and bare your soles. For super-fine feet, book a pampering pedicure before spring season. But don't settle for the ordinary file-and-shellac. The On the Rocks service at Zed's features a fully reclining zero-gravity pedicure chair. The spa's Red Shoes service includes a lemon grass exfoliating scrub, as well as foot massages before and after.

Best antidote for spring fever

a day at the races

If you're climbing up the cubicle walls, let the cats go to vicromeal and play hooky with a field trip to Lone Star Park in Grand Prairie. The Spring Thoroughbred Season starts this month, and nothing's finer than watching the horses run on a lovely afternoon (except, perhaps, watching those trifectas come in). So, put on a Stetson and put down a bet.

Best accessory fragrance

No outfit is complete without fragrance. If you haven't settled on a signature scent, V Abaku is a limited-edition take on Valentino's V. Vanilla bourbon mingles with fig, fruits, rose and sandalwood for a sexy floral-Oriental eau de parfum. For men, Sean Jean's Unforgettable brings together rum, amber, cashmere accord and Sicilian lemon for an intoxicating masculine eau de cologne.

Best hide-and-seek wear

camouflage

Tim Banks calls it "a Taci-Texas vibe." The spring men's collection from Michael Kors combines earth-toned linen, chambray and cashmere with olive camouflage stripes. The look is decidedly masculine — rich yet urbane. There's no blending in with the crowd when sporting the urban desert wear.

Best places to flirt

vintage clothing shops

Sure, you could patronize any cocktail hot spot. The best window to a date's potential, however, may be at a vintage clothing store. Unlike poring over racks of khakis, shoppers show their personality when picking up a flapper frock or Tyler Durden leather coat. It's easier to spark a conversation at Antiques and Zola's Everyday Vintage, because there are so many retro-cool offerings to chat about.

Best seasonal trend

nautical

Call it the new nautical. After the garble of bohemian layers last year, the clean lines of maritime motifs look fresh. Sailor chic ruled the Ralph Lauren Collection runway. One cream and indigo stripes married swingy skirts. Boat neck dresses with a touch of red-and-white ruffled blouses keep the look feminine. Add a few gold buttons or a strappy gold stiletto heel for just the right accent.
